USDA Foods Direct Delivery (Brown Box) Storage Policy
Approved by the Governing Council - July 1, 2018

Per Title 7, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Section 250.1(c)(1), USDA Foods Direct Delivery (aka "Brown Box") inventory may not exceed an amount needed for a six-month period. To assist Member Districts in the management of direct delivery inventory, the following policies apply to Direct Delivery USDA Foods received and stored at the Super Co-Op USDA Foods Direct Delivery Distributor (Gold Star Foods):

Direct Delivery Items with a Six Month Shelf-Life

- It is the responsibility of the Member District to schedule delivery of product as soon as possible after receipt at the Super Co-Op USDA Foods Direct Delivery Distributor (Gold Star Foods).
- At 120 days (4 months), if the item has not been scheduled by the member district for delivery, inventory is moved into the Super Co-op General Account and offered to any Member District willing to take delivery of product in 30 days or less. The originating district pays state administrative fee and their entitlement is charged. The receiving district gets the product at no charge to their entitlement and pays delivery charges.
- At 150 days (5 months), if the item has not been scheduled by the member district for delivery, the inventory is donated to a local non-profit agency (Ex: foodbank). The originating district's entitlement is charged for the item and they pay the state administrative fee.
